G3 Dogs - G3 Luxury Dog Hotel & Daycare

Guai Gou Gou (Well behaved Dog): Local Architect Designs Luxury Dog Hotel for Foreign Business.

Shanghai – November 1st 2009 – The latest design by a local Chinese design company is going to the dogs. Literally. G3 Luxury Dog Hotel & Daycare, opening December 2009 in Pudong, Shanghai, features a luxury hotel with fifty seven suites, each with its own custom designed rooms and beds. During the day, dogs can run free in an all-day play area supervised by professionally trained dog carers and trainers. The three-level hotel with fully air-conditioned play areas and outdoor garden, also features six private bedrooms for VIP guests to enjoy a full human-sized king bed, tv, classical music, en-suite bathroom and 24 hour webcam for the owner to watch his or her pet online.

G3 Luxury Dog Hotel & Daycare, not only allows you to leave your dog there overnight; your dog can spend the day in 'daycare'. That means, while you are at work during the week, G3 will happily make sure your dog gets to make new friends, his daily exercise or even day school dog training classes, while you are at the office! (And, you can watch him/her playing all day from their online webcams!)

The G3 Luxury Dog Hotel, intended to be the first in a chain, opens in Pudong Shanghai next month.

The concept comes from Edmond Kan, a dog trainer from England, who has been regularly featured on ICS International Channel of Shanghai, National Mongolia TV and That's Shanghai magazine. Located right opposite Century Park Pudong Shanghai on HuaMu Rd near HaiTong Rd, G3 Luxury Dog Hotel is currently under construction and will open its doors to your pet in December 2009.
